uh where we headed?
everything is everything. and I am given a push, I issue forth my blood ritual livin here on earth as an individual first it gets better than it gets worse and then you develop an incredible thirst its up to you, the way in which you choose to quench it and eventually it'll be an extension of yourself so, it is an imperative that you love yourself and let everyone else know hang out your hang ups to dry for these are merely barriers between you and i first when we immersed in the curse we self inflict and dwell in a pit of an intangible element called fear, this really doesnt exist it eludes insues the need to know the reason that we're all here, the gist of your relationship to creation gets ya trippin in amazement YOU, builder of galaxies, are the architect of the fallacies your thoughts project and now it seems, like your stuck to the ground and bound by your body but listen to the sound of life

CHORUS

the most creative force in the universe is us so just stay on course
listen to the song of the stars harmonious brilliance we are the filiments of this (scratching)

ahhh, and the walls come tumbling down the feeling is awesome revealing what's going around inside your guts yeah emotional outbursts don't keep it a secret no more scream and shout curse holler and throw fits whatever floats your boat we livin in a tumultuous culture don't overdose on reality cuz the way it seems ain't always how it be obey your dream and get open than a motherfucker we ain't trippin, I hop skip and I jump to deliver the shipments and pump true facts no time to pass judgements i leave it to the hypercritical to do that liberation, starts in the hearts of individuals and it sparks the inner darkness given a signal to embark upon, thoughts that spawn a new beginning and ?begin to form?

all for one common cause place in space and moment in time only inclined to face the divine reflection of perfection stretched around the most profound connection would like to sound

CHORUS 2x

(scratching)

i'm up til all hours of night grifting up my thoughts to illustrate eternity with the real estate of space the embrace of grace gets me wisked away in an nifty uplifting way drifting away and if things actually ring true then I think the ???? readily practicing for the act of scene two fifth dimensional shift and didnt you know who the fuck I was with? heiroglyphics mythics of thought methods, measured and compressed to rip shit apart, effortless a gobbley goop a slop of mess change is comin oh my god stop the press rearrangments of a mixed proportion put love in the mix and you won't need governments illuminature, human nature or each one of your days will be like euthinasia see death is imminent when you forget that life is unlimited remember its your burning cinder thats stretched around the most profound connection would like to sound

CHORUS fades til end

the filaments of this (scratching)
