Hitherto great lamentations consume us Garland feigning on the crowns of gnomes peril Heralders don hooves in homage and brave tales Saints rue the black sacrament final and solemn

CHORUS

On White Horses
Children of the first throne
On White Horses
Our king lives forevermore

Banners garnish, spinsters bury looms and bugs Boughs and boons move old heroes toward angels The spirit sweetens much the taste of new seekers Fortitude has served the bridesmaids of hallmark

Onward we go through the hills, through the snow
Our Lord for us who could be against us
