There's no way to put into words how lucky I feel
Tonight under the lights with all of you right here
I'll cherish this moment wherever I go
Without you I never would have known that

A little bit of love goes a long long way
So give a little love, love
A little bit of love changes everything
So give a little, give a little bit of love, love, love, love
Give a little bit of love, love, love, love

So what if it's getting cold and everyone's inside
My heart is warm as a fire when I'm by your side
The best things in life are always the simple things
Don't need much, just you here with me

A little bit of love goes a long long way
So give a little love, love
A little bit of love changes everything
So give a little, give a little bit of love, love, love, love
Give a little bit of love, love, love, love

It's better to live, better to live than forget that it's Better to give, better to give than to get

A little bit of love goes a long long way
A little bit of love changes everything

A little bit of love goes a long long way
So give a little love, love
A little bit of love changes everything
So give a little, give a little bit of love, love, love, love
Give a little bit of love, love, love, love
Give a little bit of love
