Dressed up like this all for nothing I don't see no stars tonight
I just want my closest friends with me while I take this ride Lately I been acting crazy partly cause I'm lost and I Talk like I have all the answers who knows if their right

I been caught up in the wrong ambitions damn I need some new ones
It's not like I am lost for choices I just need to choose one Chasing down this green grass hopping fences looks fun
Not when your alone not when your alone

Why do we call the people that never to call us back My family best friend calls me more than my family has I'm not the best at talking but I'm not worth a call Man this lights been runnin is it time turn it off

Just because it looks so pretty doesn't mean it's beautiful
Just because it's new to you does not make it's
Friends are not like closets full of shoes to throw away Trust me there are waves made from choices that you make

This is why I'm changing how these choices will get made I am speaking from my heart I am choosing from my gut
Cause my brain just leaves me out to dry and leaves me feelin stuck
So I am speaking from my heart I'm choosing from my
gut

My friends are not just play things I'm pullin out the the plug
I have to think before I say things with all them stuck up folks

Man I left me out to dry and now I'm feelin so stuck So I am speaking from my heart I am choosing from my gut

Dressed up like this all for nothing I don't see no stars
