She don't know what to say
She don't know what to do
She's up in arms today
Shining on you

Not at liberty to
As we are only passing through
You don't get the outside line
Only waste your precious time

From out of the air it seems
She fell into your dreams
She could turn your day to night

Been chasing the pirouette
Though she doesn't know it yet
Spins me out one more time
Follow you down

What are we gonna do
About the endless days?
I know I'm overdue
I think she's gonna stay

Attracted by you
And yes, I would have liked you to
You don't get the outside line
Only waste your precious time

From out of the air it seems
She fell into your dreams
She could turn your day to night

Been chasing the pirouette
Though she doesn't know it yet
Spins me out one more time

The streets are sheets of plasticine
And we're all liars in a dream
So close your eyes to anything
You're right, so right

Don't let them take you alive
Just waste your precious time

From out of the air it seems
She fell into your dreams
She could turn your day to night

Been chasing the pirouette
Though she doesn't know it yet
Spins me out one more time

Spins me out one more time
Spins me out one more time
Spins me out one more time
