"The Blues Man"

I'm just a singer
A natural born guitar ringer
Kind of an old clinger
To sad old songs
I'm not a walk behinder
I'm a new note finder
But my names a reminder
Of a blues man that's already gone
So I started drinkin
And took things that messed up my thinkin'
I was sure sinkin'
When you came along
I was alone in the hotlight
Not too much left in sight
But she changed all that in one night
When she sang me this song
"Hey baby, I love you
Hey baby, I need you
Hey baby , you ain't gotta prove to me your some kind of macho man
You wasted so much of your life
Runnin through the dark night
Let me shine some love light
Down on a blues man"
I got so sick of speed
And all the stuff they said I was needin
If I was to keep pleasin to all of my fans
I got cuffed on dirt roads
I got sued for no-shows
But you came and took all that old load down on this blues man
"Hey baby, I love you too
Hey baby, I need you
Hey baby, I do get tired of this travelin band
I'm thirty years old now
Nights would be cold now
If you wouldn't have stuck it out
With this blues man"
I'm thirty years old now
Night sure would be cold now
If you hadn't stuck it out

With this blues man
