"Atomic"

When you're walking alone
In the heat of the night
And you see it's a sign of the times
When the walls that divide you
Are tumbling down
And we're stronger in body and mind

And I know at a glance
It's a prison of love
And I don't stand a chance
And you know that it's wrong
When you say it's okay
So I know where I stand

We are atomic, we are fire
Got your lightning striking me
By the hour
We are atomic
Love struggle to be
In a world without end

Do you still cry out loud
At the sound of her name
Or is she just a face in the crowd
Well, I suffered enough
In your tower of shame
But somehow
You just made me believe

And I tremble and I shake
It's so hard to escape
And it's strangling me
And the voices I hear
Are like ghosts in the night
And they're calling to me

We are atomic...

We are atomic
Love struggle to be
In a world without end

We are... love is... atomic

We are atomic
Love struggle to be
