"Stop running away from love"

I hear a voice inside me
I feel the joy around me
Free as the wind
Spreading love to the end of time
I see the dreams of freedom
Riding on wings of wisdom
Always so near
We should leave all the fears behind

Stop running away from love
It's never too late to open your heart
Give every moment of life
And your world can never fall apart

I want to share this feeling
I know my heart is willing
Please take my hand
No one should ever stand alone
No matter how long you wait time will not change your mistakes
It means so much
If you reach out and touch someone

Stop running away from love...

Stop running away from love
Cause you can't escape the feelings inside
Just let it rise above
There's so much to give nothing to hide

Inside my heart forever
This burning flame will never die
Getting stronger day by day

Stop running away from love...

Stop running away from love
Cause you can't escape the feelings inside
Just let it rise above
There's so much to give nothing to hide
