Spending time with octopus
where nothing come alone
Every morning when I see you
You could be my lovely love
Semitone, semitone again
Don't get alarm
If you ask me to be honest
I think we should really work
With your obnoxious depression
And communication skills
It's ok it's ok
Don't be alarm
Don't be alarm
And of course if we work hard enough
We could go to the places we have Always dream
Like that cocktail we saw onâ€¦;
We saw on the televisiÃ³n
Even thou you are so artsy
But still you like to watch
And I know it cause I know
I like can tell
I know it's not so cool
I like can tell
You are what you believe you are A human ocean traveler
But don't trip
My leg turned into tentacles so
Black and pink
It's hard for me
I'm not so frightened
No one other thinks
No one other thinks
No one other thinks
Oxygen at least
Someone in the deep
Ocean understands
That life down here Depedns on someone
That doesn't suppose to make Mermaid sashimi

My propeller hits like Even though the right don't Come to feeling
As son asâ€¦
I need oxâ€¦ I need oxygen
Even those not common Stealing fishes from the pet shop Cause my friend still pick fish
What a bopely experience
We can have from time to time
Even tough we're really Friendly You can be the swimming one
fieldtrip to the chocolate factor fieldtrip to the slaughter house fieldtrip to darkness places you can hold up in your mind your philosophy your poetry your beautiful come back even thou you don't have feelings i'm obsessed with you right now

And I know, and I know you are, you are, you are and every morning you shine but last trip
it turned my legs into tentacles
and hopefully I'm not offended
oxygen at least someone in the deep
that life dawn here depends one someone that doesn't suppose to make mermaid sashimi a propeller, nano robots, pro pacific's, current deck for rolling come from felling lovely songs
