"Cheese Pizza"

your eyes are beautiful reflecting in soda my lips tremble unconsciously and your cheeks blush we're a couple like melted cheese who know nothing of love
while walking in the street, unknowingly laughing

Let's meet at our regular spot
Waiting for the blue sky, we'll share a kiss

My breast like ice meets you and becomes hot
A couple like melted cheese who know nothing of love Wearing rose coloured glasses I want to have it all

Let's be, just the two of us, and never split apart
Let's eat cheese pizza under a perfect blue sky
A couple like melted cheese who know nothing of love

Let's be, just the two of us, and never split apart
Even if something sad happens, we'll go right on by
In my depressing mood, from afar I hear your voice

Don't forget, I'll always be by your side
Let's be, just the two of us, and never split apart
Let's eat cheese pizza under a perfect blue sky
