I brush against the freckles that I hated so,
Life goes on and I heave a little sigh for you
It's heavy, the love that I would share with you
Then it dissolve like it was just a sugar cube
Now the little pain sitting in my heart
Has shrunk in a bit but it really does hurt me now
Those silly horoscopes, I
Guess I can't trust them after all...

If we could get further away,
I wonder what it would be like
Yay!
I'd be so happy,
Inside my heart...

CHORUS:

All the memories, I have are beautiful in my mind
But they don't feed the hunger deep inside my soul
And tonight I thought,
I'd be just sitting in my sorrow
And now I must wonder why?
Why did it really mean to you
I just can't see it anymore!
I just can't see it anymore...
Oohh... ohhh... ohh... ohhhh...
