lay down where its warm shed your burden youve got nowhere to be but here its what you always wanted wishful thinking
its not a bad dream

im right here will you come undone its a perfect day just to disappear away to forget what brought you here dont you know im right here will you come undone with me in time youre gonna find all that makes you certain youre exactly where you wanted to be youre only what you are and life is just an ocean

its not a bad dream

its a perfect day just to disappear away

come undone
im right here, come undone with me

shed your burdens it ain't a bad dream youll see

come undone with me
