Roky Erickson/Tommy Hall)

She lives, no fear, doubtless in everything she knows
Through time, unchecked the sureness of her flows
She leaves herself inside you when she goes
She lives in a time of her own

Her love whips hard like wind and stars in eager pain
She wins your thoughts and drives your inner planes
She clears and shares a love that never drains
She lives in a time of her own

She lives in a time of her own
She lives in a time of her own

CHORUS

You have always heard her speaking
She's been always in your ear her voice sounds a tone within you
Listen to the words you hear
Her time has no past or future
She lives everything she sees
Her time doesn't spin outside her
It's in every breath she breathes

She lives in a time of her own
She lives in a time of her own

Her eyes breathe light, reflect the aura of her hair
She sends, attends, behind an alpha stare
She seeks the stars and spirals up the stair
She lives in a time of her own

She lives in a time of her own
She lives in a time of her own
