"Headin' for a Heartache" by Juice Newton
Lyrics

It must be my imagination
Telling and I hear it say
That you've come back; I don't need that
Cuz if I ever let you stay

(chorus)
I'd be headin' for a heartache
Headin' down a dead end road
Headin' for a heartache
Headin' for a heartache I know

My heart gets in a situation
Every time I look in your eyes
You look so sweet, but I can't look deep
Cuz that's where the danger lies

(chorus, followed by the bridge)

If hurtin' was my destination
You would be the place to go
I'd take that string down memory lane
And all of the way I'd know

(chorus)

(repeat chorus, fading)
