I haven't been myself these days, according to friends
I tend to lose part of me when my heart's on the mend I'll be alright, it's safe to say
'Cause just like your love this is only a phase

Where I've been on this road a time or two, it's nothing new
Well, I'll get on my feet and over you
I tell myself that everything will be just fine
Oh, I'm just going through a little down time

Some might think I've gotten caught up in heartache's aftermath
But your memory's taken second to a good book and a nice long bath
I must admit it threw me at first
But I'm convinced, I'm over the worst

Oh, I've been on this road a time or two, it's nothing
Oh, I'll get on my feet and over you
I tell myself that everything will be just fine
Oh, I'm just going through a little down time

Time is meant to play the part
In taking care of broken hearts

So, I've been on this road a time or two, it's nothing
new
Oh, I'll get on my feet and over you
Oh, I tell myself that everything will be just fine
Oh, I'm just going through a little
Oh, I'm just going through a little
I'm just going through a little down time
