You were never a soldier
You were never a prize
You were never a soul in my eyes

Yeah you are childhood
Twisted and disguised

Oh, I am drowning
In a world that's always been dry
You're the sun that I never see rise
Yeah it is midnight
But my day only just arrived

I never breathe the air without you
Somehow entering my mind
I only breathe the air
To keep you inside
So you would always be mine

Should've never let you go
Everybody knows
Everybody knows
Should've never let you go
Everybody knows
Everybody knows

Three years and baby
Don't you know
It's time to let her go
Three years and baby
Don't you know
It's time to let her go

You were never a stranger
You were never unkind
But I had fiction on my side
Yeah I have fiction
Strongly on my side

I never kept you like a secret
I never tried to make you hide

I only ever meant to keep you inside
So you would always be mine

Should've never let you go
Everybody knows
Everybody knows
Should've never let you go
Everybody knows
Everybody knows

Three years and baby
Don't you know
It's time to let her go
Three years and baby
Don't you know
It's time to let her go

Should've never let you go
Everybody knows
Everybody knows
Should've never let you go
Everybody knows
Everybody knows

Three years and baby
Don't you know
It's time to let go
Three years and baby
Don't you know
It's time to let go

Should've never let you go
Everybody knows
Everybody knows

Three years and baby
Don't you know
It's time to let go
