I was drinking alone again
You came over, my secret friend
Then we talked until morning knocked on the door
Then we rwalked out into the light

Your eyes made it seem like everything would be okay,
Your eyes
Your eyes made it seem like everything would be okay,
Like your eyes would never close.

Like an angel you save someone
By accepting her as she was
There were so many things that I wanted to say
The last time I looked into them

You know what I feel
You know what I need

Your eyes made it seem like everything would be okay,
Your eyes
Your eyes made it seem like everything would be okay,
Like your eyes would never close.

Can I follow you down, I wanna follow you down
To the ocean floor

Your eyes made it seem like everything would be okay,
Your eyes
Your eyes made it seem like everything would be okay,
Like your eyes would never close.
