In one night you made me your own
In one night you made me your own
In one night you made me your own

The deepest embrace's creation
In one night
The deepest embrace's creation
In one night
The deepest embrace's creation
In one night

I layed there for days and you forgot
I layed there for days and you forgot
I layed there for days and you forgot
I layed there for days and you forgot

In one night you made me your own
In one hour you gave me away to the angels
In one night you made me your own
In one hour you gave me away
In one night you made me your own
In one hour you gave me away

You gave me away to the angels
You sent me up to the sky, now their wings fan the heat
From the face you'll never touch, the hair you'll never smell
The little hands you'll never hold
Hands you'll hold now

Now I am just a silhouette down there
Now I am just a silhouette down there
Now I am just a silhouette down there
Now I am just a silhouette down there

Now I am just a silhouette down there
Now I am just a silhouette down there
Now I am just a silhouette down there
Now I am just a silhouette down there
