I know you're dying to tell me everything
That you want to say but I'm not listening
Try to tell me everything that you want to say I know you're trying to force me
Feed me lies but I'm on my way, can you taste it now?
I'm dying to watch your face when I walk away

Here's the final bullet to put our love to death
Our days are never coming back
I know it's you I can forget, bang, bang, shoot, shoot There's a freight train coming to force your head in check
Our love is never coming back
I know it's you, I can forget our love forever ending

I know you're dying to tell me everything
That you want to say but I'm not listening
Trying to tell me everything will be okay, we'll be okay You're trying to warm my heart but you freeze my blood
There's ice inside my veins, I'm only dying to watch your face
When I turn away, and I'll turn away

But you cannot separate the two things I would live or die for I'd kill to separate your heart from your head That's to die for

Here's the final bullet to put our love to death
Our days are never coming back
I know it's you I can forget, bang, bang, shoot, shoot
There's a freight train coming to force your head in
Our love is never coming back
I know it's you, I can forget our love forever ending

You're just a waste of a song, you're a simple regret I thought I knew who you were, but watch how fast I forget
You wore your prettiest dress, but there's a mess in your head

They say old habits die hard, I say they're better off dead

?Cause you were bitter and cold but still you burned me alive

You held the match to my skin and poured the fuel on the fire

You're not my favorite mistake, you're just a simple regret

I thought I knew who you were, but watch how fast
And watch how well I forget

It's too late to play the good guy

It's too late to play the good guy now

It's too late to play the good guy, goodbye

Here's the final bullet to put our love to death

Our days are never coming back

I know it's you that can't forget, bang, bang, shoot, shoot

There's a freight train coming to force your head in

Our love is never coming back

I know it's you, I can forget our love forever ending

There's a freight train coming to force your head in

Our love is never coming back
