

Julianne Hough

"Never Really Mine"

Visit "Never Really Mine" on MotoLyrics.com

You looked into my eyes
And my heart lost it's mind
Passion doesn't need a reason
I hung on every word
But never really heard
What I made myself believe in
I was yours forever from the day we met
'Till I realized that it was all in my head
You were never really mine
Never really mine
I was caught up in the fantasy
Of what I wanted us to be
But I was only blind
You were never really mine
I used to cry at night
Tryin' to hold on tight
To the ghost of my illusions
How do you lose a love
That never really was
Is there any resolution
I though that you would come around
I thought you'd change
Now this cold reality
Is all that remains
You were never really mine
Never really mine
I was cought up in the fantasy
Of what I wanted us to be
But I was only blind
You were never really mine
I opened up my eyes
And now I realized...
You were never really mine
Never really mine
I was cought up in the fantasy
Of what I wanted us to be
But I was only blind
You were never really mine
- repeat to end -

