i want to know if you need me right now and if you need me right now could you tell me that you'll never leave me?

i want to know if you see it right now and if you see it like i do then you know we're finally here ... we're here i will wander, i will fall i will run right through it all again and again and again you just have to say the word i want to know if you know me right now and if you know me right now then you know what it is to hold me i've had to hold me too and i wanna know who you're longing for...

cause, i wanna know how it feels, how it feels how it feels to have you in my arms, in my arms

i will run right through it all
