think sharp, be wise
look deep into wandering eyes be kind, be firm
and hope they leave having learned the truth, no lies getting pushed around is no surprise endure and be sure you believe enough to rise again
two weeks, three days
when your home it's all the same time flies, time buys everything but the day you left behind for now you feel that you've finally found what's real and soon it'll change
'cause nothing stays the same surprise
