I got the light thru the window
You've got the alcohol
I'm on the here and now
You're on the year before
I'm on a steady diet of really being here
You got a list of rules that makes things disappear

I see the moon in texas
You see a bar that's dark
I want a revolution
You wanna make your mark
But it's not guilt that I want or punishment I see

The world reorganized now in terms of people's needs

Maybe tonite
We could bring the fuck into the light
Maybe tonite
I can see that I don't wanna die
Maybe when I turn myself away
Every little thing you said
I wanna throw it all into the bay
