You make me feel like I'm falling apart
(And now you're running away)
And I'm finally left alone in the dark
(The love begins to decay)
I've come to see that we're still evolving
And I've lost my way home
No, nothing
Nothing without you

How can you find yourself
When you're surrounded by cowards?
How can you be so sure
What they're really after?
How can you find yourself?
How can you be so sure
What they're really after?

And this soul of mine departs
(This is a better way)
Like an actor playing a part
(But it's too much to take)
You're not thinking clearly
I've lost my mind, I'll find
No, nothing
Nothing without you

How can you find yourself
When you're surrounded by cowards?
How can you be so sure
What they're really after?
How can you find yourself?
How can you be so sure
What they're really after?

What they're really after
What they're really after
How can you play their games
When you don't want to know?
What they're really after
What they're really after
How can you play their games

When you don't want to know?

How can you find yourself

When you're surrounded by cowards?

How can you be so sure

What they're really after?

How can you find yourself?

How can you be so sure

What they're really after?
