Walls we never mean to build them so tall
We lay awake and wish that they'd fall
But they never go away they just tower
There between us till there is nothing left to say Tears all there is,
Is silence and tears could this really be what we've feared Our perfect love is gone just When we thought there was nothing that could write all our wrong

We talked all night long
And we emptied out our hearts till all the hurt was gone
And we laughed even though we were mad
And we found out all the problems we had so bad Yeah and we talked

We said our peace we cleared the air tell your mom thanks for the prayers
Were not all the way back but hey were getting there All our friends just can't believe all the change in you and me
And they asked us what we did and we just smiled and said
We talked all night and we emptied our hearts till all the hurt was gone
Yeah and we laughed even though we were mad
And we found out all the problems we had just weren't so bad
Ooh and we talked yeah, (yeah yeah)
Ooh and it felt so good just talk, (yeah yeah)
