you left a message on my phone you knew I wouldn't be home you say it's love you want to save baby you're so brave but the days have gone by and I've had a lot of time to cry and think about those words I can't forget I heard you say it's all my fault
and I pushed the final button I guess that gives you the right to say whatever you want while I say nothing and you keep going on and on pointing fingers at everything I do wrong and you wonder why I'm gone?

after the damage has been done you tell me that I'm the only one well baby I'm confused can't take anymore abuse
you say it's all my fault
and you wonder why I'm gone? how dare you say it hurts to hear the silence now that we're apart? you should've thought about that when you heard the sound of my breaking heart

and you wonder why I'm gone?
I'm gone...
