Hit the bottom and bounce back up.

The lowest low is only a beginning.

These are the words many people said to me.

But in a crowd you lose humanity.

Scared of the future that comes from the past.

When I think back I see that this could never last.

All I say is all I give back to you.

All I think is all I go back to do.

All I do is all I can't get to you.

What is he? He's the inspiration.

What am I? I'm a satellite.

I revolve around a bigger body.

And when I fall, I just disappear.

Scared of the future. Aware of the past.

When I think back I see that this could never last.

All I say is all I give back to you.

All I think is all I go back to do.

All I do is all I can't get to you.

Sixteen months and seventeen days

was enough to alienate.

After all, love is unbecoming.

I turn it off and while away.

Scared of the future that's made of the past.

When I think back I see that this might never pass

All I say is all I give back to you.

All I think is all I go back to do.

All I do is all I can't get to you.
