She's got a story to tell
And it won't take long
There's so many different ways how it all went wrong
Black and blue I fell short at the end of the stairs
But who really cares
Easy does as easy do
And who are you to say where it stops

Here we go all the way through the badlands of the
USA
Way down south on to Mexico around the world and on to Tokyo
You're in for the ride. You gotta love what you live and give what you love before you get it back. Yeah
You gotta love what you live and give what you love before you get it back

Put your hand inside my magic glove
Who done it, Who is it, Who's in it love
It's a raw red revolution and here we go Oh no We've got the market cornered and who are you to tell us to step off

Here we go all the way through the badlands of the
Way down south on to Mexico around the world and on
to Tokyo
You're in for the ride. You gotta love what you live and give what you love you get it back. Yeah
You gotta love what you live and give what you love

I watched you play
I watched you play. And you broke my heart. You were Everything in my eyes. And all it took to come alive.
I watched you play. And how you took it all away

Here we go all the way through the badlands of the
Way down south on to Mexico around the world and on
to Tokyo
You're in for the ride. You gotta love what you live and give what you love to get it back.

(I watched you play)
You gotta love what you live and give what you love to get it back
