Tell me why you're so blind I've given everything to her take a minute to losen the line of your tiresome sting of this tiresome sting

Don't be so quick to judge my ways cause everything will gel with us someday a little understanding is all I ask trust in me remove your mask just a little faith is all I need I'll stand my ground will you believe please don't--don't you say

You haven't seen me around lately you heard I've gone away heard I've gone away
seen me around lately
heard I've gone away
heard I've gone away

Tell me why you think I'm unkind you know I do what I can talk to me without the frustrating vines you know I'm helping her stand

Don't be so quick to judge my ways
just a little faith is all I need
please don't--don't you say

seen me around lately...

But I haven't gone away.
