Dreaming chaos screaming weeping love this enemy, call my name run this nightmare, freezing horizon watchers and dancers playing the game

Here lies the heresy and pillars we know fantasy drying the ones down below wiping the dust of the crystal delay and the reapers keep sighing, scrying in their will

Tying the serpent, while the ivy crowns dissonance, resonance the witchers so proud coming for endless as the dimension shimmers dancing and seeing the blinds failing whiter

Constant and strong the desert so coarse
the cats masturbating with the goddess wrought love me, love me draw me a picture dancing for ever like poison elixir.
