The ocean reaps with nothingless pain, for foreign godless pass my entity sees another pray, swirless of desolate concealment rides the waves, where fantasies curl in the abyss's mystic maze.

Casting the signs I may, in triangular concepts I reign, though my watcher holds the path I made.
Freaking with this orders being, come slither through the maze.

In bewildered minds their game is played, to see their minds so soared and manned and left wondering in a scripture maze of lies, the serpent strides pass their paths to machines, surping young watching minds through a field of chaos Smiles coded as if entwined chemicaly through maingers away, confession you say? say the prayers and slither away to the little whores hidden far more than egnored, so your faith lies behind someone elses door?

Just to ponder a while, through creations divined secret chime,
to see evils dogmas created for order, that your evil godhead so deicvingly forseen, that thou are of primative being of flowing orgasmic dreams. Guilt the only means in societies twisted ordered scream.
