Out all night with some strange guy Waking me up at half past five Seems like runnin round is all you do

It's gettin pretty plain to see The nightowl you turned out to be I gotta get up every mornin just to say good night to you

Well one look at those bloodshot eyes and my head starts to hurt
You're comin home with alibis, when I get up for work I've had as much as a man can take, so baby quit stayin out so late
I gotta get up every mornin just to say good night to
you

The alarm clock rings and there you are Fallin out of someones car Told me you'd be home at half past two

The break of dawn is your best friend I'm tellin you gal this better end I gotta get up every mornin just to say good night to
you

For you to change your schedule is something that I doubt Every day I punch the timeclock about the same time you pass out.
My mornin coffee is your nightcap, you little all night maniac
I gotta get up every mornin just to say good night to
you
I gotta get up every mornin just to say good night to you
