I felt the pressure but I passed it off
I heard your glockenspiel pounding soft
When I climbed on top of you, you said get off
Must this drag on forever?
I tripped and stumbled in the dead of night
Flashing my endless stream of kryptonite
I lit my brain with rainbow crystal light
Must this drag on forever?
Then things got so quiet
Like I should not be here
You said I had to try it
Donâ€™t let me interfere
Just let me out of here
Your waxy face is melting on your lap
And I sat there trying to crush a ginger snap
Your scream was sounding like a thunderclap
Must this drag on forever?
Your coconut windows hid the light so well
Your testimony put me in a spell
You looked so wasted that I could not tell
Must this drag on forever?
Then things got too quiet
Like I should not be here
You said I had to try it
Well, donâ€™t let me interfere
Please help me out here
Must this drag on forever?
Must this drag on forever?
Must this drag on forever?
Must this drag on...
