How would I know about your life?
And how about a long night
How do you follow the sun?
And how do you stay under the thumb

There's a fine line between us
Such a fine fine line
There's a fine line between us
And it's always on my mind

What can you say to make me realize
The full moon in your eyes
You probably know now that you're waking up
You still feel shaken up

There's a fine line between us
All the way
There's a fine line between us
Can't waste another day

They take you in their arms and whisper
What you want to hear don't you fall
They show you all their charms and whisper
Don't you shed a tear don't you fall

There's a fine line between us
Such a fine fine line
There's a fine line between us
And it's always on my mind

There's a fine line between us
All the way
There's a fine line between us
Can't waste another day

Such a fine line
There's a fine line between us
