You're my lover, you're the one I depend on
With one another we don't have to pretend
You could turn me down over twice
You could treat me mean or treat me nice

But soon the time will come
I know what I put you through
The time will run
Away from us like time, it will do

You're my lover and forever my friend
And when I touch you I never want it to end
And when the starry night has left to dawn
The thought of you just keeps me dreaming on

But soon the time will come
I know what I put you through
The time will run
Away from us like time, it will do

And when I need you, you will always be there
And you're my lover, we can go anywhere
And when the starry night has left to dawn
The thought of you just keeps me dreaming on

But soon the time will come
I know what I put you through
The time will run
Away from us like time, it will do
I know what I put you through
