everybody's sleeping in lovely loveless land and everybody's waiting for that twilight superman well i saw with his sacred robe with his silver shoes and his hat he was looking like the chosen one and boys i don't think too much of that think to much of that all you pretty people with your idols on the shelf i say you can forget about your destiny until you love yourself everybody's getting stoned i said everybody's leaving home you better serve up you thirsty hand for the twilight superman

twilight superman
catch him if you can well all you charming women we like your new design and your lover rock and rollers they're gonna chill you in the spine yeah and i see people all day day they're just looking for that moonlight song and somebody's searching for a plan for the twilight superman

why don't you catch him if you can
twilight superman
