"The Game" by Just in Case

I got a feeling that I'm losing my mind again
Something hit me and I couldn't get out off the way
This place is empty and it's sad that no one's here
You could be anywhere... I mean everywhere

My heart is beating and I couldn't stand the pain
You speak so easy but the word is so extreme
You think I'm wasted but I'm much too strong for you
You throw it all away... you gave it all away

Refrain;
Got to get up again, been through a lot of game
I need to break this out, been through a lot of shame

Chorus;
Cause you played those "wicked game"
Run and walk away
Now I can't pretend
That I can't turn back now

I've seen the difference and a reason not to try
My life is wasted and I've waited all inside
I can't believe it but I acted like a clown
I figured all it out I'm only freaking out

Bridge;
I know we could have made it somewhere very far
We could have been together every hour
For almost every time...
