It's a long, long road, baby, I'll walk it.
It's a mountain high, baby, I'll cross it.
It's a deep blue sky, you know, I'll jump out in it.
There's nothin' I would not do for you, there's no limit.

If you want my heart, you can have it.
If you want my soul, you gotta grab it.
If you want my love, then, baby, come an' get it.
There's nothin' I would not do for you, there's no limit.

It's parked back, honey, and can wave goodbye to Hollywood.
Climb in to the back an' just get on with feelin' good.

It's parked back, honey, and can wave goodbye to Hollywood.
Slide in to the back there's nothin' wrong with feelin'
good.
Feelin' good.

If your finger hurts, I'll mend it.
It's broken smile, I'll bend it.
It's a barbed wire fence, you know I'll take my chances.
There's nothin' I would not do,
This hunger you're livin' through:
There's no limit.

(It's a long, long road.) You can walk it.
(It's mountain high.) You can climb it.
(It's a deep blue sky.) Take your chances.
Ooh ooh ooh.
(It's a long, long road.)
