Construct a better me you'll long to see
My parts have gone missing, scattered like debris
Across the world that I once called my home
(I once called my home)

Six feet deep
Jealous of the world above
No longer wandering the streets
No more to talk about
A bridge is meant for better feet
I once thought
I would do you proud

You ran your mouth off
Do you think you're talking to me?
I can't sleep
When everything I had and believed
Was broken and stolen from me
(Stolen from me) (x2)

Conversing with the ghost to replace me
Hope they cherish you and they share your sheets
Cause I know I would give my life
(I would give my life)

Believe me, giving up was easy
I try, but you can never see me
In your dreams, my memory lives on
Even when I'm gone

You ran your mouth off
Do you think you're talking to me?
I can't sleep
When everything I had and believed
Was broken and stolen from me
(Stolen from me) (x2)

The more I look, I see an enemy
You'll never put your arms around this memory
I am drawn into weakness
Return resented

I'm rescuing pieces and mend all damaged

Well, did you think that it was gonna change?
Everything you burned and buried all along the way
Don't ask or tell who he's ?
All the lives that you wreck
All the lives that will prevail

You ran your mouth off
Do you think you're talking to me?
I can't sleep
When everything I had and believed
Was broken and stolen from me
(Stolen from me) (x4)
