Lots of questions but I never got it clear!
So much I'd like to know but the answer's never there!
And I'm feeling kind of empty, empty but still not sad!
And still I'm asking, if the world treats us bad!

Give me answers! I've been searching long enough!
Without finding some and it can be kind of tough!

What if the world would stop spinning?
What if the losers started winning?
What if I changed my mind!
What if angels would cry?
What if God would die?
Why would I change my mind!

The world is miserable but that is what we've made!
Full of wars and full of hate, we're like animals in a cage!
When do people get a chance to pay their dues?
How 'bout the man up there? Is there nothing he can do!

Give me answers! I've been searching long enough!
Without finding some and it can be kind of tough!

What if the world would stop spinning?
What if the losers started winning?
What if I changed my mind!
What if angels would cry?
What if God would die?
Why would I change my mind!

Now I'm standing here, as empty as before...
Noone have ever helped me, not even the lord!
Lots of questions, but it ain't worth to try...
I'm trying to catch the answers, but they're just passing by!

I don't have the power to struggle, don't want to struggle anymore!
Cause I know that it will end up like before!

What if the world would stop spinning?
What if the losers started winning?
What if I changed my mind!
What if angels would cry?
What if God would die?
Why would I change my mind!

What if the world would stop spinning?
What if the losers started winning?
What if we changed our minds!
What if angels would cry?
What if God would die?
Why would we change our minds!
