I met a girl that I thought, came from my dreams!
Don't judge the book by the cover cause it's not always what it seems!
The smile she had and the look of her eyes, made me feel like home!
But then that moment she turned away I started shiver to my bones!

But I could never hate, hate someone like you!
And you have no idea, what you've put me through!

But when you're smiling right at me, when you're
laughing out with me!
And now you're crying out, on my shoulder!
When you're smiling right at me! And when you're
laughing out with me!
But now you're screaming out!

Every girl I've ever met, always are the same!
Still I'm trying to catch them all, but they're leaving me in pain!
No one ever understands me, I really don't know why!
Why it always starts so good, but it ends up with goodbye!

But I could never hate, hate someone like you!
And you have no idea, what you've put me through!

But when you're smiling right at me, when you're
laughing out with me!
And now you're crying out, on my shoulder!
When you're smiling right at me! And when you're
laughing out with me!
But now you're screaming out!

The day we met eachother, you were looking great!
And I felt so god damn lucky, and I believed that it was fate.
But now the wind is turning, and I'm blowing far away!
I'm better off away from you so I figured that I can't stay!

But when you're smiling right at me, when you're
laughing out with me!
And now you're crying out, on my shoulder!
When you're smiling right at me! And when you're
laughing out with me!
And now you're crying out, on my shoulder!

But when you're smiling right at me, when you're
laughing out with me!
And now you're crying out, on my shoulder!
When you're smiling right at me! And when you're
laughing out with me!
But now you're screaming out to me!
