Your deception is like the morning after a rainstorm
One is done but another is on it's way
But where can we go?
Where can we hide?

I grab your hand
I can see that it's cold
They won't find us this time
They won't find us this time
I promise

(Chorus)
(I was speaking to the white wall of death
These lies waking the serpent cradled on the ocean floor
Don't know why we're drowning
Or what we're drowning in)

I can see that you're scared
I can see that you're frightened
I look at you
I look in your eyes
And I tell you everything's gonna be ok
But I don't even know for myself

(Chorus)

The sun peers in
The sun peers in through the blinds
They catch a small glimpse
Suddenly the door busts open

(Chorus)
