This song's for you
To tell you all the things
I can't say to your face
'Cause you're not here
And though you're miles away
This song remains the same
It's for you

And I can't seem to stop thinking of your smile
And the way your eyes look in my soul
You see the real me
I've never met another you sees me as you do
And I'm missing you tonight
And I wonder just staring at the stars
If my wish for you comes true

And I can't sleep tonight
I wish that you were here by my side
And you never called me twice
I wish to hear your voice one more time
One more time tonight, tonight
