What is there left to say
Your mind's made up today
I'd just be wasting all my breath on you
To make you understand when it's right in front of you
I think you can see
You can see

So reach up, take His hand
And see Him change your life around
That's all I want for you
Is to live
To actually live

And you wonder why you can't stop thinking about Him
If He exists, 'cause He exists
If what I say is true or isn't
Am I hitting or am I missing it
You still have to choose
You still have to choose

So reach up, take His hand
And see Him change your life around
That's all I want for you
Is to live
To actually live

I'm not the one who's speaking to you now
Your heart is calling out
And the fire is burning now more than ever before
And you know that it won't go away

So reach up, take His hand
And see Him change your life around
That's all I want for you
Is to live
To actually live
