maybe it could have some lyrics like these:

since the first day i met her i knew she was the one

or i know shes the one I've been searching for all my life

or

there's not a day that i could go without her , i have to see her beautiful face

or

every time im with her i fell like if im dreaming

i just cant stop thinking about her

or

i love everything about her, there's not one thing that I'll ever change about her

there's something about her that makes me fall in love with her within everyday

its like a dream come true, i still cant believe how a pretty lady like her fell in love with me

shes the best girlfriend I've had so far well thats all i got for now!!
