"Stranger Things Have Happened To Me"

Take my hand, believe me I understand
Talk to me, there's nothing I can't believe
There are no words too vulgar or too absurd

As strange as it may seem
Stranger things have happened to me

Kissing you should have been nothing new
I think you could show me a thing or two
Overnight, blindness turns into sight

Maybe this is meant to be
Stranger things have happened to me.

You hear me when I touch you
I feel you when you speak
There's no such thing as strange, just unique

Fly with me, I saved you a window seat
Don't look down 'till love sets us on the ground
Can you believe love defines gravity?

As it strange as it may seem
There's so much more than what we see
Maybe this is meant to be
Stranger things have happened to me
