Visit "Alone Together" on MotoLyrics.com

Life seems a little warmer with you standing next to me
And if you were a little taller, or I was a little smaller You'd block the wind entirely

I don't want you to make this into something it is not
But

I am alone, you are alone
We are alone
Let's be alone together

Life's just a bit more funny when i'm poking fun at you
Cause you trip when you are running
And if my jokes were truly funny
Then you might share in the laughter too

It changes everything to share this with you
