this squeaky clean appearance i've been working on is often in the way of the truth and life that i'm portraying this narrow road i'm walking is rising up to meet me meet me right square in the face i'm praying

Lord guide us to see the key to our redemption
is knowing our humanity

there are no heroes
there are no great ones here
we're only fools
who know that we are fools

the ancient art of making you believe that i am half as good as i wish i was

there are no saints here
there are no guiltless ones we're only those who know that we've been rescued

(yea) rescued (yea)
