At long last love,
Has come shining through the shadow world
Bright and smiling in a sad old world,
Out of the blue

At long last love,
Has come knocking unexpectedly
Bold and brave for all the world to see,
At long last you

Just when I stopped believing
Lost and sinking
Barely breathing
This old heart of mine's been healing
In your smile's embrace

At long last love,
Warm and welcome as the morning sun
Soft and tender when the day is done,
At long last you

Just when I stopped believing
Lost and sinking
Barely breathing
This old heart of mine's been healing
In your smile's embrace

At long last love,
Warm and welcome as the morning sun
Soft and tender when the day is done,
At long last you

At long last you
