Now I've been told that love's the thing that makes the world go 'round
It's all you need, it's patient and it's kind
And I know that it's not easy to love your enemies
So often matter wins out over mind...

But I'm gonna love everybody, love my friends and love my lovers
Love my father and my mother and all other families
too
I'm gonna love everybody, even those who criticize me
Those who wrong me or despise me, I'm gonna love...
Even you.

You pass me when I'm speeding, and then start driving slow
You come to hear me play and then you talk right through my show
You smile when I'm here and then reject me when I'm gone
And when autumn comes you'll rake your leaves and dump them on my lawn

But I'm gonna love everybody, love my friends and
love my lovers
I'm gonna love everybody, even those who criticize me
Those who wrong me or despise me, I'm gonna love...
Even you.

You push me 'round in meetings, you skimp on your okays
You terminate my job and then you give yourself a raise
You say it must be true because you heard it on TV
You make your own mistakes and then you blame them all on me

But I'm gonna love everybody, love my friends and
love my lovers

I'm gonna love everybody, even those who criticize me
Those who wrong me or despise me, I'm gonna love...
Even you.

We're bludgeoned by our careless acts, we're paralyzed with rage
The angels up in heaven turn away So you know now it's just us down here and we have to start the change
And decide to love each other anyway

And I'm gonna love everybody, love my friends and
love my lovers
Love my sisters and my brothers and all other families
I'm gonna love everybody, even those who criticize me
Those who wrong me or despise me, I'm gonna love...
I'm gonna love everybody, love my friends and love my lovers
Let's all just love each other, and each other's families
I'm gonna love everybody, even those who criticize me
Those who wrong me or despise me, I'm gonna love...
Even you.
